

Dr Maneesh Singhal graduated from Maulana Azad Medical College after which he pursued his surgical training at Safdarjang Hospital. He finished his plastic surgery residency in 2005 following which he joined as faculty member at AIIMS. He is presently Associate Professor and Plastic and Maxillofacial Surgeon at Apex Trauma Center, AIIMS. His main interest is Wound healing, Trauma reconstructive surgery, Maxillofacial Injuries, Complex wound management and Negative pressure wound therapy. He has many international and international research publications, national and international paper presentations, chapters in books, research projects as investigator and coinvestigator funded by ICMR and AIIMS . He also has delivered many lectures in international and national meetings as guest faculty. He is one of the course director ATLS India program. He is also a recognised university undergraduate and post graduate teacher and examiner.